INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

- New York City is among the most expensive and competitive housing markets in the USA.
- It was impacted severely by the COVID-19.
- NYC is a buyer's real estate market and buyers may have an opportunity to get some heavy discounts.
- Many industry experts have been predicting a strong property appreciation in New York starting from 2021.
- Home prices are still low compared to where they were last year, just before the pandemic hit New York City.
- Most buyers aren't paying sellers' asking prices.
- Since 2012, the NYC home values have appreciated by nearly 52% as per Zillow Home Value Index.

This makes New York as one of the best real estate market for homes to get into.

1. The house prices are relatively low
2. High buyer power
3. Huge inventory of homes
4. Projected uptrend in price leading to higher return on investment.
